INDEX

TO THE

TWENTY-FOURTH VOLUME

OF THE

Weekly Entertainer.

A.

ADVICE, on giving, 52.
Agricultural reports, 48, 132, 192, 233, 311, 408, 485.
Agriculture, beneficial practices in, 292. anecdote in, 336. remarkable improvements made in Scotland in that useful ſcience, 351.
Alterations, original remarks on ſome modern ones made in churches, ſtreets, &c. 168.
American trade, correſpondence on that ſubject between Lord Grenville and Mr. Jay, 481.
Anagrams, 78, 237, 277, 338, 457, 518. Anſwers to, 58, 117, 317, 477, 518.
Anecdote of Peter the Great and Prince Galitzin, 16. of the Sultan Maſoud, ibid. of two American rivals, 17. of the conduct of Peter the Great reſpecting duelling, 33. of Mole, a favourite French actor, 37. of Sir George Rooke, ibid. a Perſian, 66. of the Arabs, 75. of the lake of Zug, 77. of the famous Chillingworth, ibid. of pious quackery, 76. of a Hottentot, 92. of Mr. E. Adams, a quaker of Philadelphia, 97. of William Marquis of Wincheſter, ibid. of the Emperor Charles V. 136. of a Negro Pilot, 157. of the ſtrictneſs and injuſtice of the French eccleſiaſtical law, 175. of General Arnold, 177. of M. von Haller, 190. of a remarkably large bee-hive, 196. of an attempt to arreſt a dead body, 255. of M. de la Bruyere, 276. of a very old man, ibid. of Prince Auguſtus, 296. of Mr. H. of Glaſgow, 297. of Mr. Vandergucht, the painter, 316. of a brave young officer in the navy, ibid. of a ſailor, 317. of the late Dr. Solander, 337. of Mr. Howard, 343. of the telegraphe, ibid. of French ſagacity, 356. relative to the Electorate of Hanover, 376. relative to Magdalen College, Oxford, 397. of Mr. Horne Tooke, 416. of Marſhal Keith and the Turkiſh Grand Viſier, 456. of the late Mr. Baddeley, 457. of a coxcomb, 477. of a travelling impoſtor, 526.
Anecdotes of the action of the 1ſt of June, 1794, 12, 33. of the brave Captain John Harvey, 34. of the extreme parſimony of Daniel Dancer, Eſq. 309, 345. of the Act of Parliament for granting counſel to priſoners charged with high treaſon, treaſon, 392. of Dr. William Cullen, 395. of Sir Robert Walpole, 454.

Animals, on the artifices of various kinds of, 36.
Arabians, on their food and manner of eating, 409. effect of climate, government, and character on the people of that country, 453.

B.

Bois le Duc, deſcription of, 341.
Boon, the adventures of Colonel Daniel, formerly a hunter, containing a narrative of the wars of Kentucky, 331.
Briel, ſketch of a tour from that place to Rotterdam, 235.
Briſſot, J. P. account of his life, written by himſelf, 3.
Bulam, authentic account of the late expedition to that place, by J. Monteſiore, 247, 265, 281.

C.

Charades, 38, 58, 138, 158, 237, 277, 357, 358, 398, 438, 457. Anſwers to, 37, 38, 98, 117, 157, 158, 197, 218, 237, 277, 316, 318, 397, 398.
China, authentic particulars reſpecting Lord Macartney's embaſſy to that kingdom, 101, 148, 321.
Chriſtian church, ſtriking ſimilarity in its cuſtoms, when in a corrupt ſtate, to thoſe of the Jews and Heathens, 50.
Committee of Secrecy, their firſt report, 7. their ſecond, 21, 41, 61, 81, 121, 141, 161, 181, 201, 221, 245, 261.
Copying writing, ſpecification of the patent granted to Mr. James Watt, of Birmingham, for his new method of performing it, 1.
Corſica, deſcription of, 172.
Cows, improved method of managing them, 94.
Cube root, method of extracting them, by Mr. Elliott, of Hackney, 377.

D.

Debt, curious method of paying one, 476.
Diſcovery, a remarkable, 451.
Dorſetſhire dairies, Mr. Claridge's account of, 426.
Dreſs, on, 191.
Dry-rot in timber, important communication reſpecting the, 393.
Drowning, account of a narrow eſcape from, 455.

E.

Egyptians, their ancient treatment of Kings, 75.
Egypt, pyramids of, 65.
Elaſtic gum, on the method of making it with the bottles that are brought from Brazil, by M. Groſſart (Chirly), 34.
Enclos, Ninon de, curious narrative reſpecting her, 466.
Enigmas, 98, 138, 197, 258, 278, 298, 338, 358, 418, 458, 497. Anſwers to, 57, 117, 197, 357, 438, 477, 517.
Epitaphs, 57, 137.
European politics, general review of, 26, 112, 208, 284, 370, 461.
Exeter, account of the viſit made to that city by Charles the Second, 217.
Eyre, Lord Chief Juſtice, extract from his charge to the grand jury at Clerkenwell, October 2, 1794, 306.

F.

Fact, remarkable military one, 506.
Florentine mother, the, 271.
Fragment, a, 312.
French ſhips, liſt of thoſe deſtroyed by Britiſh ones from the beginning of the war to May 1, 1794, 13.

G.

Gratitude, an hiſtorical tale, 472.

H.

Halliday, Major, ſketch of the late, 69.
Harcourt, Lady, deſcription of her ſpinning feaſt, at Nuneham, in Oxfordſhire, to encourage virtue and induſtry; 45.
Hardy, Thomas, account of his trial for high treaſon, 381, 401, 427, 442, 468, 486.
Health, the Chineſe method of preſerving, 195.
Heretical owl, the, 92.

K.

Kaunitz, Prince de, ſketch of his character, 93.

L.

Lands, on watering of them, and the feeding of cattle, by a Liverpool farmer, 451.
Leſlie, life of George, 491, 501.
Leucadea, a Spaniſh tale, 413, 421.
Lime, Biſhop Watſon's account of the weight which it acquires by expoſure to the air, 71.

M.

Method, of the great conſequence of it in our conduct in life, 314.
Middleſex, deſcription of the New Bridewell for that county, 441.

N.

Newſpapers, their origin in England, 152.

O.

Orchards, Mr. Bucknall's obſervations reſpecting the pruning of, 88.
Orthography, curious ſpecimens of, 18, 157, 437.

P.

Paine's Age of Reaſon, remarks on ſome parts of, 512.
Pekin, deſcription of, 127.
Phænomenon, a remarkable, 117.
Pin manufactory, account of that at Glouceſter, 189.
Plumb Pope, particulars of that ſingular character, 133.

Q.

Quakers, ſome of their leading tenets traced to the Waldenſes, 67. origin of the, 86.
Quarries in Portland, deſcription of them, 355.
Queſtions, 38, 118, 178, 258, 338, 458. Anſwers to, 18, 77, 137, 177, 217, 297, 397, 437, 517.

R.

Rack, Mr. Edmund, ſketch of his character, 95.
Rebuſſes, 18, 58, 78, 118, 138, 178, 218, 237, 318, 377, 438, 478, 497. Anſwers to, 78, 97, 158, 237, 257, 258, 277, 317, 335, 357, 417, 437, 477.
Reflections, 96, 296, 396, 456, 476.
Religious ſincerity, Dr. Hawker's remarks on, 72.
Republic in miniature, account of a, 257.
Rhine, extracts from Dr. Cogan's voyage on the, 192, 241.
Robeſpierre, memoirs of the late celebrated, with a ſketch of his character, 227.

S.

Saliſbury, account of the New Council Houſe and Aſſize Hall there, 417.
Sheriffs at Weſtminſter, ceremonies uſed at ſwearing them, 315.
Sierra Leone, Mr. Monteſiore's account of, 301.
Small farms, Dr. Cogan's remarks on their utility, 517.
Speaker of the Houſe of Commons, his ſpeech to the Managers of Mr. Haſtings's trial, 15.

Spillard,

Spillard, Mr. account of the excurſions of that celebrated pedeſtrian, 274.
Stilton cheeſe, account of the method of making it, 188.

T.

Telegraphe, account of the, 251.
Traveller, an extraordinary, 135.
Treaſon, High, Lord Chief Juſtice Eyre's charge to the Grand Jury at Clerkenwell, October 2, 1794, 306. abſtract of the indictment againſt the priſoners tried for high treaſon, 327. trial of Thomas Hardy for, 381, 401, 427, 442, 468, 486.
Trials, intereſting, 107, 154, 294, 434.

V.

Vapours, Robinſon's method of diſſipating the noxious ones found in wells, 49.
Verſes. Rural amuſements, or the pleaſures of a country life, 19, 38. ſtanzas, by Mrs. Robinſon, 20. on love, ibid. ode to patience, 40. woman, by Mr. Preſton, ibid. ſongs ſung at Drury Lane Theatre in honour of Lord Howe's victory of June 1, 1794, 59. deſcription of a gypſey, 60. addreſſed to an unfortunate girl, ibid. prologue, by Joſeph Richardſon, Eſq. ſpoken at the benefit given for the families of thoſe brave ſailors who fell in the glorious victory of June 1, 1794, 79. Pindar's addreſs to his harp, by the Rev. Mr. Taſker, 80. epitaph, ibid. the election, 99. a reflexion, addreſſed to all who think, 100. invocation to confidence, ibid. evening, ibid. the parental poet, by Mr. Preſton, 119. a priſon, ibid. ſonnet to the river Wye, by Mr. Kett, 120. twilight, ibid. picture of the maniac, by Mrs. Robinſon, 139. Gaffer Gray, by Mr. Holcroft, 140. ſonnet, ibid. ode on the conſolations of afflictions, 159. on beauty, 160. night, ibid. on the death of Miſs Coles, which happened Auguſt 4, 1794, by her brother, J. K. Coles, of Wookey Hole, 179. on the ſame ſubject, by a friend, 180. pleaſure, ibid. advice, 199. ode to the imagination, ibid. ſtanzas written by an unfortunate gentleman who deſtroyed himſelf the morning the object of his affections was married to his rival, 200. autumn, ibid. England's triumph, a ſong, 219. the wandering lover, by Mrs. Smith, 220. verſes written by Lieut. G. Spearing, on his deliverance from a coal pit, Sept. 20, 1793, 239. elegy on the death of W. H. Hartley, late M. P. for Berkſhire, by W. Wainhouſe, ibid. Johnny May, a parody on "Gaffer Gray," 240. abſence, an elegy, written by Sir Joſeph Mawbey, Bart. 259. the Piedmonteſe, by Mrs. Radcliffe, ibid. a circulating library at a public watering place, 260. winter, from Dryden, ibid. verſes written at Margate, by an epicure upon ſeeing a Dutch veſſel ſail by, laden with turbots for the London markets, 279. melancholy, by C. J. Pitt, ibid. to a ſportſman, 280. moral reflection, ibid. ode to envy, 299. lines addreſſed to ——— 300. elegy on the death of a favourite dog, buried in the garden, by a lady, 319. the happy captive, 320. on an airy and pleaſant ſituation near a commercial town, being ſurrounded by new buildings, by Maria Logan, ibid. ſonnet to pain, ibid. happineſs, 339. the contraſt, 340. faſhionable friends, ibid. to melancholy, 359. lines written on the peruſal of a poem in which which the names of ſome young ladies were impertinently introduced, 360. poſtſcript of a letter from a gentleman in Devon to his friend, ibid. lines, in anſwer to ——, ibid. epitaph, by Mr. Taſker, on Lieut. W. Hamblin, who died ſuddenly ſoon after his arrival on ſhore, and within a very ſhort time of his being married to an agreeable young lady of Plymouth, 379. the proxy, a new ballad, ibid. a farewell addreſs to a young lady, 380. October, by Mr. Bridges, ibid. ſtanza from Mr. Taſker's new edition of his Ode to the Warlike Genius of Great Britain, 399. the invitation, by T. Pearce, of Camelford, 400. to Emily, ibid. on the ruins of Sherborne Caſtle, ibid. to ſleep, ibid. ode to my beloved daughter, written on her birthday, October 18, 1794, by Mrs. Robinſon, 419. friendſhip, 420. Words to the well-known Iriſh tune of Ellen A'Roon, by the Right Hon. J. H. Hutchinſon, 439. Marian's complaint, by Peter Pindar, 440. to religion, by T. Pearſe, of Camelford, ibid. ſonnet, ibid. extempore lines addreſſed to Miſs Jane Duval, on her marriage with Henry Seymour Boys, Eſq. of the Royal Navy, by L. H. Halloran, of Alphington Academy, 460. a ſong, by Philander, of Totnes, ibid. parody on "Shepherds I have loſt my love," ibid. on Lord Howe's victory, ibid. the muſe and candour, a fable, by Alexis, of Totnes, 478. ſonnet, ibid. lines written by the Rev. Mr. B——, on his quitting Ilfracombe, 499. ſonnet written on the preſentation of the ſtandards and colours to the Volunteer Cavalry and Exeter Volunteers, in the Caſtle Yard, December 12, ibid. hymn to the guillotine, by Peter Pindar, 500. the old ſhepherd's dog, by the ſame, ibid. ode to war, by the Rev. J. Whitehouſe, 519. written in the winter, on abſence, 520.

Virginia, account of the loſs of that ſhip, 510.

W.

Watt, Robert, his confeſſion, who was executed at Edinburgh for High Treaſon, October 18, 1794, 367.

Wit, on the different claſſes of, 494, 507.